HOSPITALITY, IN PERFECT PROPORTION

CONCEPT / NOT PRODUCTION ARTWORK · v1.0 · 2026-10-06 · Logo shown from supplied raster, PENDING PRODUCTION MASTER

One master brand. One descriptive stream.

GEM™ — Amenities & Packaging is a descriptive business stream under the GEM™ master brand. It is not a separate identity: same logo, same palette, same typography, with a descriptive line set in type.

GEM is positioned as a hospitality supplier and partner, not a hotel operator. The stream translates the brand's principles of precision, proportion and restraint into the physical touchpoints a guest holds, opens and keeps.

What GEM is proposing: a coordinated family of amenities and packaging that one property can adopt as a whole. What GEM can currently prove: the brand system. Commercial scope, capability and supply are CONDITIONAL until validation closes (AC03, VAL-01).

DESCRIPTIVE STREAM · APPROVED (C03, T01) · CAPABILITY CLAIMS CONDITIONAL (VAL-01)

ONE SYSTEM. MANY TOUCHPOINTS.

Every product is part of one coordinated guest experience. The same symbol, the same proportions, the same hierarchy and the same quiet surfaces, from a sachet to a carton.

CONCEPT / NOT PRODUCTION ARTWORK

A controlled adaptation for one property.

Property Edition is named in the register (E14) and in Part A slide 60; its scope is CONDITIONAL until commercial validation closes (AC03, VAL-01).

The adaptation is controlled: the GEM identity is unchanged; the property is named as a typeset descriptive line at the tier level. No separate logo, no new palette, no stream symbol (C04, C11, C12).

Tier naming: Property Edition and Bespoke Programme are register names; the name of the standard range is [REQUIRES OWNER].

GEM™ + PROPERTY NAME

Partners stand beside GEM, not inside it (Part A slide 31). The supplier relationship is shown as a typeset line: "Supplied by GEM™ for PROPERTY NAME". Optical balance, each brand's clearspace, a hairline where appropriate.

Never merge, recolour, contain or redraw either identity. Precedence follows the approved agreement; the equal-partner arrangement is a default, not a mandate (I10, I11).

PROPERTY NAME is a fictional placeholder; no real partner is approved.

CO-BRANDING CONCEPT · SUBJECT TO PARTNER AGREEMENT

CO-BRANDING CONCEPT · SUBJECT TO PARTNER AGREEMENT

Controlled customisation. The identity stays dominant.

Bespoke programmes are named in the register (E14) as part of the intended offer; the tier is CONDITIONAL (Part A 60, Part C 27).

What may flex: label tone within the four colours, surface, format and information set per property.

What never flexes: the symbol, the palette, the typography, the hierarchy, the one-spark rule. Customisation is not unrestricted design; every variant is approved through brand governance (C06, C07).

19 · MATERIAL DIRECTION · PENDING SUPPLIER VALIDATION

Warm uncoated paper · Matte board · Ink and Beige surfaces · Controlled translucent material · Neutral plastics · Restrained tactile finishes. Feel before shine. No substrate, GSM, polymer, resin, recycled content or certification is stated.

20 · FINISH DIRECTION · PENDING PHYSICAL PROOF

Blind emboss · Deboss · Precision die-cut · Soft-touch matte. Avoid decorative gold foil, chrome, holographic finishes and heavy gloss. Depth, pressure, plate, minimum feature size and tooling are defined only by supplier trials.
